Honda Genuine Oil – Formulated for your Honda

DRIVING TOWARDS THE FUTURE

Honda's engineers have developed a new series of engines using their unique Earth Dreams Technology which ensures the perfect balance of efficiency and performance. In developing this series of ground breaking engines, Honda has engineered a range of engine oils to match precisely the requirements of the engines.

For example in engineering Honda's 1.6 i-DTEC award winning engine. Honda have developed a unique Green Diesel Engine Oil which ensures that the published fuel efficiency figures can not only be achieved but surpassed. In servicing your vehicle through the Authorised Honda Dealer Network, you can be sure that the engine oil developed specifically for your vehicle will be available for routine maintenance. The characteristics of the Honda Green Diesel oil are unique and is only available from your local Authorised Honda Dealer.

In today's environment using the manufacturer's specified oil plays a critical role in ensuring the longevity of your valued Honda. In addition to this using engine oil other than that recommended can not only have a negative effect on your engines performance over time but also your vehicles fuel economy. In fact the fuel consumption could be reduced by upto 15% by using the incorrect engine oil in your vehicle so it makes sense to use the correct oil as specified by Honda at all times.
